Project Description

Help the U.S. Department of Agriculture understand its own sensitive information before it gets shared to those suspicious entities out there in cyberspace! The USDA has a confusing and conflicting patchwork of over 15 different, but specific policies and markings used to control “Sensitive, but Unclassified (SBU) information. The absence of standardized practices significantly increases the risk that information mishandling will occur or impede appropriate information sharing for public safety.

This is an opportunity to assist in developing policy, procedures, and training, while analyzing laws, regulations, and government-wide policy to ensure compliance with Executive Order 13556 “Controlled Unclassified Information” (CUI).

Desired Skills Interests

Additional Information

We're looking for students with research and analysis skills, good oral and written communication, and experience with Microsoft PowerPoint and Excel.

The Controlled Unclassified Information (CUI) program was established by Executive Order 13556 and standardizes the way the Executive branch handles unclassified information that requires safeguarding or dissemination controls pursuant to and consistent with law, regulations, and Government-wide policies.
